Our website is designed to make it easy for you to find out about our products, to apply for them and to manage your money. To do this we use cookies, which are pieces of information that a website transfers to your computer’s memory or hard disk for record keeping purposes.

Cookies can help us make your experience of the website more relevant, and they can also help us learn about how people use our website (and therefore help make it better).

Most web browsers are set to accept cookies, but you can always change your computer settings to stop them. If you choose to do that, you may not be able to take full advantage of our online services.

HOW DO WE STORE PERSONAL INFORMATION?

We store your personal information in a number of ways including:

HOW DO WE PROTECT PERSONAL INFORMATION?

We take all reasonable steps to protect your personal information from misuse, loss and unauthorised access, modification or disclosure. These include:

- using appropriate information technology and processes;
- restricting access to your personal information to our employees and those who perform services for us who need your personal information to do what we have engaged them to do;

ARE YOUR ONLINE TRANSACTIONS SECURE?

We ensure your protection with a Secure Socket Layer (SSL), which scrambles your data to make it unreadable by third parties. It does this by:

Server authentication

The web server sends a digital certificate to your computer so that you can be sure of its identity (and know that the transaction is protected - you'll see a lock symbol on the bottom right of the browser window).

Client authentication

Your computer authenticates itself to the server by showing its digital signature.

Encryption

During the internet connection, data that's transferred from your computer to the server is scrambled, so that only your computer and the server can understand the contents of the transaction. This prevents other internet users from intercepting the information sent.

See our comments above regarding the websites of third parties including those that are linked to our website.
